Russia wants peace on terms that no selfrespecting adversary could grant. She refuses to cede any territory and will not consider the question of indemnity-just as though she ever had the slightest claim on any part of Manchuria, from which the brave little Japanese have driven her. But wise men have been known to change their minds, and the Czar may be a wise man.

STUNG by the wholesale criticism lately heaped upon the Russian War Office for its unpreparedness and incapacity in providing the Manchurian Army with men, guns and ammunitions, the army organ lays bare what has been done since the opening of hostilities, giving the exact figures. From these it appears that up to March 12th the War Office had dispatched 13,087 officers, 761,467 men, 146,408 horses, 1,521 guns and 716,321 tons of ammunition and supplies to the front. Of these vast aggregates, Field Marshal OYAMA's little Japs got away with some 200,000 of the men and most of the other stuff.

THE news comes from Algiers that Secretary HAY has arrived at Gibraltar and that "he is enjoying good health"-just as though anybody lows: would "enjoy" bad health.

When a Country Editor reads of the wonderful ease with which Cassie Chadwick collected millions, while he stays awake o' nights trying to collect a $2.87 subscription account, it makes him think of Amsterdam.

'WAY back yonder when General GRANT was President he urged the annexation of Santo Domingo. He saw that, unless it was controlled by the United States, it was going to be a source of everlasting trouble. But the wise guys in Congress thought otherwise; and if there's been six months of quietude in that island since that time, the Police Reporters never got on. At the recent session of the Senate President ROOSEVELT urged a treaty arrangement; and again the wise guys refused. Now there's a whole bunch of revolutions down there, and the authorities are going to ask Uncle Sam's protection.

THE search for the North Pole goes merrily on. Failure has come to all the pole-seekers of the past, but the strenuous and dangerous game continues. In France, the Duke of Orleans is making preparations for a polar expedition. In Norway, Nansen's sailing master, Sverdrup, is said to making ready for another expedition Northward. In this country, Peary is again active in the work of preparation. "When the North and South Poles are finally turned, the exhilarating, if dangerous, sport of exploration will of necessity become practically a lost art in the modern world," says The Times-Star. Not quite. Those who enjoy "exhilarating" and "dangerous" sport may then turn their attention to Breathitt county.

They obligated themselves to complete the canal and to pay 60% of the net receipts derived from tolls to the old stockholders until they were fully paid. They had a force varying from 500 to 2,000 men at work for the last ten years, but seemingly made but little progress, and finally, for a consideration of $40,000,000, sold the United the Panama Railroad. The present plans are to construct a dam of concrete masonry at a point about three miles up the river from where it will enter the canal. This dam will cover about 5,900 acres, and when full the water will be 165 feet deep. It will serve two purposes in addition to controlling this river: It will help to feed and furnish the motive power for operating the locks, as well as lighting the canal at night from ocean to ocean. Five years will be required to build this dam, and it will cost $4,000,000.

Another dam, constructed of earth and ma sonry, will be built near Bohio. The water in this dam will be backed up in the canal for a distance of sixteen miles, feeding the summit level, also reducing the fall of the Chagres, and forming a lake covering thirty-one square miles where ships can pass or anchor. The cost of this dam will be about $9,000,000.

There will be five double locks, each 738 feet long, with a lifting capacity varying from thirtyeight to ninety feet. The estimated cost of these five locks is $25,000,000.

From Colon to Matachin, twenty-seven miles the country is low, swampy and almost entirely covered with a thick jungle; in fact, an ax must be used to cut a pathway. The foliage is the ong, broad tropical leaf through which a ray of sunshine never penetrates; the leaves fall and decay, layer upon layer, and the results are the creation of an intense miasmatic poison which during De Lesseps's reign caused the im ported Negroes, West Indian laborers and reach on the Pacific side. Forty-three and a Chinamen to die so rapidly that no attempt was made to give them a decent burial. A the present time the health on the Isthmus is far better than it was at that time, but when digging commences on the gigantic scale neces sary to complete the canal; the healthfulness will decrease in spite of all sanitary and hygienic precautions. Between Panama and the Chagres river the ountry is hilly and mountainous. Considerable work was done here by the French company. At Culebra, the summit of the divide, for a distance of seven miles, the average depth of this cut will be 300 feet, and varying from 500 to 1,500 feet wide on top, and about 160 feet wide at the bottom. Strata of clay, soapstone, limestone and lava rock compose the formation of this cut. Massive sustaining walls of masonry will have to be built to prevent the sliding and caving in of the banks. It is fortunate that at this point where the heaviest work is to be done the healthfulness is the best.

The Panama Railroad was built by a New York company in 1857, at a cost of $8,000,-000. It is a common saying throughout Central America that the construction of this road cost a life for every tie beneath its rails. The railroad depends upon the ships, and the people upon the railroad. Railroading in Panama has some peculiarities of its own. The Conductors have a freight run one week and a passenger the next. The crews do not follow the same Conductor. The equipment of the Panama Railroad is old-fashioned but in excellent condition. The gauge is five feet, and but lew of the cars are equipped with air brakes. The ties are made of lignum-vitæ wood, which is so hard that a spike cannot be driven until a hole has been bored for it. Telegraph poles are made of old rails stood on end. All cabooses and baggage cars are equipped with telephones, so that a train can stop anywhere along the line and communicate with headquarters. Freight rates across the Isthmus are very high, the tariff on a fifty-pound sack of flour being thirty cents. Local rates are stiffer yet, the same charge being made for one mile as for the entire distance. First-class passenger fare is about nine cents a mile; sechand. It costs the average passenger more to must be expended. get his trunk across the Isthmus than to have himself transported.

dry, the wet beginning about the 15th of April | Pacific side is twenty-one miles farther East and extending to the 15th of December. The amount of rain that falls has been given as the peculiar bend or elbow in the Isthmus at 128 inches per annum. During this season the this point. temperature rarely falls below ninety degrees, and the heat and humidity become unbearable. The dry season begins about the 15th of December and extends to the 15th of April. The weather and other conditions are much more favorable at this time.

Since acquiring the canal property, the United States Government has had a large force of men at work improving the sanitary conditions of the city of Panama, Colon and the principal points along the route of the canal. As soon as these conditions are more favorable, and sufficient houses have been erected to shelter the workmen, a force of from twelve to twenty thousand men will be put to work.

The city of Panama, a town of 17,000 inhabitants, is situated upon an elevated point of land jutting into Panama Bay. The town is irregularly laid out with narrow crooked streets, cobble stoned and filthy. The houses are Spanish in architecture.

There is no finer hospital on the globe than the one they have at Panama. It is on the side of Ancon Mountain, which used to be a volcano several centuries ago. This hospital is said to have cost $5,000,000. At the foot of this mountain one can dig a hole two feet deep and come to a boiling spring. Engines are used for pumping this water to the hospital.

Colon, the Northwestern terminus of the canal, is built in a swamp, on made ground, and is populated by 5,000 people, seventy per cent. being Jamaica and other kind of Negroes. The prices that will interest you. property of the railroad and canal company is drained and sewered, and is situated on the water front. Everything about the company's property looks clean and well kept, but the rest of the town is filthy. The streets are macadamized and on a higher plane than the adjoining lots. In the wet season pools are formed under the houses and serve as breeding places for fever and frogs.

Neither Colon nor Panama has a first class harbor; the defect of Colon harbor is its exposure to strong Northerly winds, which, though rare, occur for periods of a few days every year, and while they prevail ships must go to sea for safety. The rise and fall of the tide in but twenty-six inches.

Actual Sterility in Women Is Very Rare-Healthy Mothers and Children Make Happy Homes.

Vegetable Compound more successfully than by any other medicine, because it gives tone and strength to the entire female organism, curing all displacements, ulceration and inflammation.

A woman who is in good physical condition transmits to her children the blessings of a good constitution. Is not that an incentive to prepare for a healthy maternity?

If expectant mothers would fortify themselves with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which for thirty years has sustained thousands of women in this condition, there would be a great decrease in miscarriages, in suffering, and in disappointments at

The following letters to Mrs. Pinkham demonstrate the power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in such cases

Mrs. L. C. Glover, Vice-President of Milwaukee Business Woman's Association, of 614 Grove Street, Milwaukee. Wis., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:-"I was married for several years and no children blessed our home. The doctor said I had a complication of female troubles and I could not have any children unless I could be cured. For months I took his medicines, trying in vain for a cure, but at last my husband became disgusted and suggested that I tute.

Many women long for a child to bless their homes, but because of some debility or displacement of the female organs they are barren.

Preparation for healthy maternity is accomplished by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

Ty Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound: his I did, and I improved steadily in health, and in less than two years a beautiful child came to bless our home. Now we have something to live for, and all the credit is due to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

Mrs. Mae P. Wharry, Secretary of the North Shore Oratorical Society. The Norman, Milwaukee, Wis., writes,

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:-"I was married for five years and gave birth to two premature children, Lydis E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recom-mended to me, and I am so glad I took it, for mended to me, and I am so glad I took it, for it changed me from a weak, nervous woman to a strong, happy and healthy one within seven months. Within two years a lovely little girl was born, which is the pride and joy of our household. Every day I pless Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for the light, health and happiness it brought to

If any woman thinks she is sterile, or has doubts about her ability to carry a child to a mature birth let her write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., whose advice is free to all expectant or would-be mothers. She has helped thousands of women through this anxious period.

Women suffering with irregular or painful menstruation, leucorrhœa, displacement, ulceration or inflammation of the womb, that bearing down feeling or ovarian trouble, backache, bloating or nervous prostration, should remember that Lydia E. Discussion of the question in Tokio and among Japanese diplomats generally shows that a large claim for indemnity will undoubtedly be made when the formal negotiations with Russia are entered upon.
